SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell. I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good."

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it.

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly trouble, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlasting tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

THE FRENCH ACADEMY.

Career of the Organization of the "Forty Immortals."

The Institute of France had its inception in 1570, when there was founded in Paris by the French poet. An toine de Baif, a literary and musical society, known as the Academy of the Valois. Charles IX. granted it letters patent on Nov. 20, 1570, as "The Academy of Poetry and Music." It had, however, no stability. Attacked upon every occasion and criticised by its opponents, its members ceased to meet after 1584. Almost half a century passed before a revival took place.

For some time since the year 1629 a small circle of enthusiastic students was wont to meet at each other's home for the study of French language and literature. From year to year its membership increased, and in 1634 Cardinal Richelieu proposed to the society to have their private status changed into a public institution, with many rights and privileges. Upon agreement by the society it was henceforth known as "the French Academy," with a charter from Louis XIII. of January, 1635. It consisted then of forty members—the "forty immortals"—and at no time and under no pressure whatsoever has this number been increased.—London Standard.

Lost and Found.

It is a world of strange happenings. On the Alaska steamer from Seattle was a young lady who bitterly lamented to a friend aboard the loss of a pin. It was an Elk emblem, gold and jeweled, a present from her brother. She had lost it on the street in Seattle just before her departure. She related the circumstances in the presence of another passenger to whom she had just been introduced by her friend. This fellow passenger seemed interested and finally inquired, "Did you really lose an Elk pin and did it have your initials engraved on the back?" "Indeed I did," replied the young lady. "How did you know about the initials?" The passenger rejoined, "Well, I found it!" He had picked up the pin on the street in Seattle just before the steamer had sailed.—Leslie's.

Growing Truth.

An argument is usually a tug-of-war, and a tug-of-war does not bring people together, yet we are often deceived into thinking that we can bring the other man over to our side by arguing with him. Even when an argument does convince it is not usually the best way of convincing. It is so much better to suggest to people than to argue with them. If you have convinced a person he is trying to remember what you have said. But if you drop a seed in his mind it will quietly work in him. Growing truth is more effective than driven truth.

Wily Elephants.

An elephant that is going to make trouble turns his back on his intended victim and begins to swing his great body from side to side. Then in a flash he wheels, catches the offender with his trunk and hurls him perhaps twenty feet away, following swiftly to crush the life from his body with his mighty knees.

Curious Shoes.

In India the lowest classes wear as shoes a flat block with a large knob, which slips between the first and second toes. They are so skilled in wearing these that they are able to keep them on and walk or run with great speed.

About Dry Goods Mainly.

"Before we were married, Tom, you used to drink in every word I said." "Yes, but your conversation has become so dry now that I can't drink it in."—Boston Traveler.

His Occupation.

"Johnny, is your father an optimist or a pessimist?" "He ain't neither one. He's a chili-ropist."—New York American.

As Bill Nye Saw It.

Bill Nye described a fire-shot Colt's revolver as "Professor Colt's fire volume treatise on the ventilation of the human system."

Making Things Even.

"Here's a young man that predicts that movie shows will eventually bring $5 a seat." "Well, things have a way of evening up. I suppose then we can listen to grand opera for a nickel."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

No Calm Medium.

There is no calm medium in a sixteen-year-old girl's vocabulary. If you are not perfectly grand you are insufferably odious.—American Magazine.

Buying Army Discharges.

A discharge may be purchased by a soldier who has served at least one year in the army if he is stationed within the confines of the United States. If he is serving in Alaska or anywhere outside the continental limits of the United States or if his organization has been ordered to take station outside the continental limits he cannot obtain a discharge.

The price at which a soldier may purchase his discharge, as taken from general orders No. 4, war department, Washington, D. C., Jan. 8, 1906, is as follows: "After one year's service, $120; two years, $100; three years, $90; four years, $85; five years, $80; six years, $75; seven years, $70; eight years, $65; nine years, $60; ten years, $55; eleven years, $50."—Philadelphia Press.

The Child at the Window.

Often than not we may tell a child's sex from the time the child spends at the window on a rainy day. Whatever the years make a woman, she is born domesticated. The little girl looks out of the window chiefly because something is happening outside, not because she wishes something would happen, and returns contentedly to her indoor interests. But, however the years thin a man's blood, he is born an open air adventurer. The little boy dries of carpet play and remains gazing at the rain and gray skies, waiting for the sun to shine.—J. J. Bell.

Skim Cream on Bottles.

A novel method of skimming all the cream from milk contained in a bottle or like vessel is to use a large round disk of rubber which takes a slightly concave shape, it being hung upon three light aluminum rods or wires. Slipping the disk in edgewise and below the surface, it then takes the flat position and can be drawn out with all the cream.

Keep Ham Moist.

Bolled ham is a most useful and popular dish, but it is inclined to get hard and dry when stored. To prevent this, spread over the cut portion with a thin layer of butter, then with a layer of flour paste and the ham will keep beautifully moist.

Cherish Enthusiasm.

Faithful work is possible even if enthusiasm is lacking, but no one makes a splendid success without bringing to his task ardor as well as industry. To love your work and believe in its outcome are essential to a high grade of achievement. Cherish your enthusiasms. To try to succeed without them is as foolish as to tie one hand behind your back and see what you can accomplish with the other.
